DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-11 and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- The recitation “a first rail portion and a second rail portion, each portion having a constant cross section, the cross section” (lines 2-3 of claim 1) is unclear. Does “the cross section” (line 3 of claim 1) refer to the cross section of the first rail, the cross section of the second rail, or both cross sections?
- It is unclear how the limitation “each a first arm” (line 9 of claim 1) is meant to limit the claim. Are there a plurality of first arms?
- The word “means” (line 10 of claim 7) is preceded by the word(s) “locking” in an attempt to use a “means” clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding “means,” it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).
- It is unclear how “relative clearance” (line 13 of claim 7) is meant to limit the claims. Is there a clearance space between elements? If so, which elements? Does the recitation mean to set forth a degree of clearance? If so it is impossible to determine such a degree as claimed. How would one determine if a prior art clearance is relative or not? How is a relative clearance structurally different from a non-relative clearance?

For the reasons mentioned above a great deal of confusion and uncertainty exists as to the proper interpretation of the claim limitations. In accordance with the MPEP § 2173.06, rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 or 35 U.S.C. 103 follows based on the examiner's best understanding of the claim scope. The applicant is strongly urged to amend the entirety of the claims (not only the examples listed above) to conform to current U.S. practice.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-11 and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bailey (U.S. Patent 5,452,880)

Bailey appears to disclose all of the applicants elected claim limitations as best understood by the examiner (see 35 U.S.C. § 112 2nd paragraph rejections above). Note that a panel of pickets (or palings) is panel within the broadest reasonable interpretation of the term. Furthermore, note that panels are otherwise expressly disclosed in lines 20-25 of column 8.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment (i.e., the newly added limitations to claims 1 and 7) necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
